Georgia Court Rules in Sterigenics' Favor in Ethylene Oxide Property Devaluation Lawsuits

On November 6, 2026, the State Court of Cobb County, Georgia ruled in favor of Sterigenics U.S., LLC and Sotera Health LLC in nine lawsuits claiming that ethylene oxide emissions from Sterigenics' Atlanta facility lowered nearby home values. The court dismissed every claim in those nine cases, which were selected by the parties to move forward first. The remaining property devaluation cases pending before the court remain stayed.